SEWERAGE COMPANY.

Deed of Trust for Security of $150,000 Bonds Was Filed Yesterday Morning.

PROVISIONS OF DOCUMENT.

The Bond Issue Was Authorized by Stockholders and Will be "First Mortgage" and Bearing Five Per Cent. Interest—Real Estate.

A deed of trust to the West End Trust and Safe Deposit Trust Company, of Philadelphia, was yesterday filed for record at the Court House by the Wilmington Sewerage Company to secure $150,000 of its bonds to be floated for the purpose of establishing its system of sanitary sewerage in this city. The document contains upwards of 10,000 words and is printed in pamphlet form of date July 1st. The issue of bonds was authorized at a meeting of the stockholders of the Sewerage Company at Wilmington, May 16th, 1901, all the stockholders having been present in person and action having been unanimous in this particular.

The bonds are to be first morigage, five per cent; numbered consecutively from 1 to 300, inclusive, of the denomination of $500 each and dated May 1st, 1901, maturing in thirty years and payable at the office of the Trust Company in Philadelphia, the interest being payable also at the same place semi-annually.

The property transferred in the deed is all real estate, houses, leases, machinery and all other property now owned or that may hereafter be acquired by the Sewerage Cowpany, all real and personal estate, franchises and property of every kind name and value, wherever situated, now owned by, and which may be hereafter acquired, and all rights, powers, privileges and franchises which may have been granted to or conferred upon the Sewerage company by the city or otherwise, or which may hereafter be acquired, situated in and near the city of Wilmington, all the erections, buildings, machinery, pipe etc., purchased or in any way acquired or may yet be acquired in and about the construction, maintenance and operation of a system of sewerage in Wilmington; all the net income, rents, profits and money derived or to be derived from any contracts whatsoever. The real estate owned by the company is set forth as a parcel of land on the western edge of Burnt Mill Creek, containing about one-half acre, more or less, with right of way on, in and over Hall street to Wood street, thence southwardly on Wood street for a distance included by the boundaries of the property of Walter G. MacRae, for the laying and building of pipes and manholes.

Next follows in the instrument an enumeration of the articles of agreement between the two parties to the contract, one of which is that should the Sewerage company default in the payment of interest and continue such defalcation for six months or fail to fulfill any other condition of the contract then then the whole of the principal of the bonds with interest, shall at the option of the Trustee, become immediately due and payable or the Trust Company shall have power to take charge of the property and carry on the business until a sale by law is authorized.

The document is signed by Wm. E. Worth, president, and Edgar G. Parmele, secretary of the Wilmington Sewerage Company and Horace A. Doan, president, and Chas. E. Wolbert, secretary of the West End Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

Superior Court Monday.

The first of the Superior Courts for New Hanover county created by the last Legislature to take the place of the Criminal Courts will be convened to-morrow morning in this city, Judge Oliver H. The docket is very light as the term is so close upon the last of the Criminal Courts held about three weeks ago.

BUSY WEEK AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Hotels and Cottages Crowded With Visitors—Big Excursion From Atlanta Arrived Yesterday Morning.

Wrightsville Beach was positively filled to overflowing last night. The hotels and private boarding houses along the beach were taxed to their limit and seventy tents were erected on the ocean front near the Seashore hotel to accommodate the overflow. It was a day of excursions and heavy travel. The warm weather of the past few days has caused the inland country to send down crowds to the seashore, and the crowds have generally decided to stay some time.

An excursion of some 350 people came in from Atlanta yesterday morning and went through to the beach. The excursion left Atlanta Friday night about 9 o'clock and was run in over the Seaboard Air Line. It was a consolidated affair given by the Retail Grocers' Association and the Masons of Atlanta, and was under the clever supervision of Wm. B. Clements, of the Seaboard system. Many distinguished Atlantians accompany the party, including Hon. Hoke Smith and family who will spend two weeks at the Seashore Hotel. Among yesterday's arrivals at the Seashore Hotel were Max. Robinson, West Virginia; M. C. Thompson, Baltimore; Miss Pauline Myers, Miss Gardner, Geo. H. Holladay, W. B. Gumarin, O. F. Camp, W. J. Hawes and wife, T. G. Byrd, wife, child and nurse, Thos. H. [Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., July 6.—The Raleigh rooters and rooterinas were treated to a fine exhibition of the national game to day. There was no kicking and the Champions and Turtles got down to real business. Raleigh won by luck rather than anything else. It just happened so they got two home runs in their lucky sixth after Wilmington had apparently a safe lead and the rooters were ready to give over the game certain to Wilmington.

In the second Wilmington scored first. McGinnis took first, and Warren hit for two bases, scoring him. A wild pitch advanced Warren to third and he scored on Allen's fly to center. In the third the Champions crushed Raleigh rooters with three runs. Devlin reached first on an error by Atz. Sebring singled and advanced on Crockett's sacrifice. Thackara fanned, McGinnis received a pass, Warren hit to Venable, who fumbled, allowing Warren to reach first while Devlin scored. The ball was thrown wild, allowing Sebring to score. LeGrande made another wild throw and McGinnis scored. The grand stand presented a heartrending scene, from which it didn't rally until luck gave the Turtles two home runs in the sixth. Had the ball in either one varied a foot it would not have been a home run at all.

The Champions, Turtles and rooters were all pleased with Umpire Withers, who succeeded Staley in to-day's game.

Summary: Home runs, Sorber, Stanley and LeGrande; two base hits, Venable, Warren, Clayton and Sebring; base on balls, off Stanley 4, off Allen 1; struck out, by Stanley 8, by Allen 3; wild pitch, Allen; passed ball, LeGrande; double play, Crockett to Clayton to Devlin; sacrifice hits, Hennager, Sherman, Devlin and Crockett; stolen bases, Stockdale and Stanley; left on bases, Raleigh 5, Wilmington 6. Time of game, 1:35. Umpire, Mr. Withers.

Three Out of Seven Does Very Well.

— Of the five hits made off Stanley yesterday Sebring got three and one of the five runs.

— The Raleigh papers say the game of Friday was the most exciting ever played in that town.

— The French editor says it will be a fete champetre, but the horse editor again says "neigh." It will be a lawn party.

— Give the lovely lunatics the right of way. They are running a special for the benefit of the Champions, and they are going at a lively gait.

— Although Allen yielded fifteen hits, his record at strike-outs, bases on balls, etc., yesterday will compare favorably with that of Stanley.

— Every merchant who is called on will doubtless contribute some article to be disposed of at the lawn party to be held for the benefit of the Champions.

— It is now a tie between the Champions and the Turtles. The chances are that next Sunday morning the percentage column will show a change in favor of the former.

— In chasing a fly ball Thursday Sebring ran into the fence enclosing the Raleigh grounds and received injuries that kept him out of the game Thursday played there.

— Just as soon as Capt. John Cotton recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia he fell a victim to base ball fever of a malignant type. But it will take a streak of greased lightning to "shut out" Kap. Kotton.

— The Champions have nothing to be ashamed of in the result of the series of games with the Loggerheads last week. In their disabled condition, three out of the seven games is all that could have been reasonably expected.

— With fine frenzy the Raleigh Times says: "The Lobsters are quitters when they run up against a pitcher who can send the ball down like a hot shot out of a cannon." Were they "quitters" Friday when the Loggerheads had their best pitchers in the box?

— What a desperate effort the Komical King of the Loggerheads made to capture the game Friday. He had all his pitchers at work except Stanley, whom he was doubtless afraid to risk; but even with all this and the assistance of the umpire he could not win the game.

— Stafford played for New Orleans in two games at Chattanooga on the 4th. Chattanooga won the morning and New Orleans the afternoon game. In the latter Stafford lined a ball over the left field fence, netting four runs. It has been a long, long time since Bob did any work of that kind in Wilmington.

— The Giants have lost four men—Foreman, Vorhees, Stafford and Crockett—within the past few weeks without adding a single new man to the team. Thus handicapped, their success has been remarkable. In time for the games with the Hornets this week Willig and Frost will join them, and both are good players.

— This, from the New Orleans State, is about the team Stafford is to help out: "Things are going from bad to worse with the Pelicans. It begins to look as if they will never break the ice and surprise the natives by winning a game. Yesterday's game was of such a character that it would make the youngest and greenest amateur take to the woods. Judging by the press dispatches the game was one of the poorest ever played in Memphis."

— The Norfolk Landmark says the attendance there is so small that it "will not justify buying a beef steak." And it intimates that the Norfolk team may go to Statesville this week. It also gives currency to a rumor that Manager Kain is very much dissatisfied with the attendance in Richmond and hints at a possible transfer of his team to Durham. It is rather late in the season for these changes, and it is probable the talk is for more "filthy lucre."

FUNERAL YESTERDAY MORNING.

Services Over Remains of Capt. P. E. Kelly Impressively Conducted.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Capt. P. E. Kelly, whose sad demise has already been chronicled in these columns, took place yesterday morning from the residence of Capt. John Barry, corner of Fifth and Campbell streets, thence to St. Thomas Catholic church where requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the dead was celebrated, Rev. Father Marion having been the celebrant. At beautiful Oakdale cemetery, where the interment was were in the presence of a large concourse of friends, the concluding services made by Rev. Father C. Dennen. The Hibernian Benevolent Society, of which deceased was an active and valued member, attended the services in a body.

The esteem in which the deceased was held was attested by the numerous floral contributions, notable among them being a pillow design from the roadway department of the A. C. L., with which he was connected.

The pallbearers for the sad occasion were: Honorary, Mr. J. H. Sweeney and Mr. Daniel Quinlivan; active, Messrs. M. O'Brien, Thomas Torpy, Timothy Donlan, Thomas Quinlivan, M. Griffin and Capt. Robert Green.

The Florence Times of yesterday says of the deceased:

Roadmaster "Pat" Kelly, of the M. and A. division of the Coast Line, died yesterday afternoon in Sumter. He had been sick about two weeks with typhoid fever. Mr. Kelly was a very popular railroad man and was held in the highest esteem by the officials. He had scores of friends in Florence.

A Twine Battleship.

A full-rigged battleship, armed and ready for action, forms an attractive display in one of the windows of Mr. Charles D. Foard's hardware store, on South Front street. The hull is formed with two pieces of galvanized iron, filled with balls of jute twine, two sledge handles form the mast and the yard arms are made of buggy spokes and hammer handles; the funnel is a joint of stove pipe; the deck rail is made of bolts and brass jack chain; T bolts are used for anchors; the guns, twelve in number, are black pipe, four on each side, two each forward and after turrets. The furled sails are balls of cotton twine. In the window the vessel is surrounded with hanks of twine so arranged to represent the sea. The ship was designed and rigged by Mr. P. Heinsberger, Jr., a salesman with the house.

Death of Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Scott, wife of the well known New Hanover trucker, residing on the McCartney place, died yesterday morning after an illness of some time. She will be buried this afternoon at the Hewlett graveyard after funeral services from the late residence.

RICHMOND DISBANDS.

Base Ball Team Left the Virginia-Carolina League Last Night.

NORFOLK WANTS TRANSFER.

That is the News Given Out From League Headquarters—It Looks Now Like a North Carolina Association of Only Four Teams.

The Richmond base ball team disbanded last night. The following telegram was received by the STAR shortly after 1 o'clock this morning:

"RICHMOND, VA., July 6.—The Richmond base ball team disbanded to-night. It is believed that the North Carolina clubs in the league will play the league out, as they are all said to be in good condition and enthusiastic."

Richmond was scheduled to play the first half of the week at Raleigh and the last half of the week at Tarboro. Then the following week Wilmington and Raleigh were to have gone to Richmond for a game. It is also given out from Norfolk that that team is seeking to be removed to Durham.

The following press dispatch was received this morning at 2 o'clock:

"RICHMOND, VA., July 6.—It is understood here that Norfolk is considering a transfer of its ball team to some town in North Carolina. It is thought unlikely, however, that the deal will be made, as it is believed the dropping out of Richmond will dissolve the league."

THE BASE BALL BAZAAR.

Preparation Go On Apace for Big Event Friday Night—Other Benefits Have Been Offered.

Although the news from Raleigh yesterday had rather a depressing effect upon the base ball lunatics here, there was increased enthusiasm with the "crankerinas" over the prospect of the grand base ball bazaar to be given next Friday night at Hilton Park.

The ladies are losing no time, or figuratively speaking, they are allowing no grass to grow under their feet, in the way of preparations for a gorgeous affair and it remains only for the general public to rally to their assistance in the way of donations and all will be well. Every enthusiast can do something towards making a success of the event and a 'phone message to Mrs. Cuthbert Martin or to Mrs A. B. Skelding will probably suggest what a generous donor could do in the way of assisting the promoters of the National sport in Wilmington.

As the days go by new features are added and upon the whole the bazaar promises to excel all efforts in this direction in Wilmington heretofore. The ladies hope to arrange for a theatrical attraction by the best amateur talent for the evening, and this alone will be worth the while of any one to visit Hilton on this festive occasion. The admission, including street car fare to and from the Park, will be only 25 cents. The best of order will be maintained and of course, the ball teams of Wilmington and Charlotte will be there.

Aside from this benefit, enterprising young men have come to the rescue and several other benefits are on tapis. The most important next to the bazaar, of course, is the all-day and night excursion on the steamer Wilmington to Carolina Beach on Thursday, July 11th. This enterprise is in the hands of Messrs. J. H. LeGwin and Percy H. Smith and promises to yield a neat sum. The boats will leave the city at 9:15 A. M., 2:30, 5:15 and 7:30 P. M., and the last boat will leave the beach at 11 P. M. There will be dancing all day and at night in the handsomely appointed Sedgely Hall Club house. Round trip tickets will be sold for 25 cents.

Another benefit is offered by Messrs. S. J. Davis and J. C. Blackley, the well known Market street horsemen. They have placed at the disposal of the Ball Association a wagonette and two horses for the three games here next week and the proceeds of running the same to and from the games will be devoted to the support of the Wilmington Champions.

Another commendable benefit is a base ball game to be played at Hilton Tuesday afternoon between the amateur teams of the Carolina Athletic Association and the High School Champions. The game will be called at 4 P. M. and an admission of fifteen cents for gentlemen and ten cents for ladies will be charged. The line-up of the teams is as follows:

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a called meeting of the Hibernian Benevolent Society held at their hall July 6th, 1901, a committee was appointed to prepare resolutions of respect to the memory of our departed brother member, Patrick E. Kelly, and also of condolence with his afflicted family.

WHEREAS, In dispensing of justice from an all wise and merciful God, we as a Society are called upon to record the death of our respected brother, Patrick E. Kelly, who peacefully passed away on Thursday, July 4th, 1901, and in the triumph of a living faith in God, his heavenly Father, and a hope of a glorious immortality.

Resolved, That it is with profound sorrow that we are called upon to record the demise of Patrick E. Kelly.

Resolved, That the Society has lost an energetic and faithful member, whose youth gave promise of a bright future.

Resolved, That the Society extend its sympathy to the bereaved family; that a copy of these resolutions be sent them, and that the secretary be instructed to spread a copy of them on the minute book in memory of the deceased.

The Morning Star.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 7.

AN IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.

During the days of the anti-slavery agitation which precipitated the armed conflict between the North and the South, William H. Seward declared that there was an "irrepressible conflict between freedom and slavery." The conflict to which he referred was irrepressible only because wild-eyed agitators in the North whose fathers had coined money by kidnapping negroes in Africa and selling them to planters in the South persisted in assailing the South because she held slaves. The fathers of these agitators had shown the thrift to get rid of their slaves by sending them South and converting them into money, before the agitation began. The conflict became irrepressible not because there was anything in the system of slavery as it existed which made it irrepressible, but simply because the agitators made it an issue in politics and politicians like William H. Seward took it up and made it "irrepressible."

That irrepressible conflict hasn't been settled yet. It has got into the arena in a different form, and is yet an issue in politics. Then it was the freedom of the "man and the brother" from involuntary servitude for the benefit of a master. Now it is the freedom to exercise the franchise conferred upon him by these agitators, the freedom to exercise it just as the white man does. That privilege was conferred upon the ex-slave thirty odd years ago, and it is an issue in politics yet and will be until these agitators recognize the fact that although you may churn water and oil together they will not blend. When the churning ceases the oil and water will separate and the particles of each will find its kind and they will go together. That's nature's law, and it is as natural for the races to get together as it is for these particles of oil and water.

That problem will be eventually and effectually settled, and the white people of the country in spite of the political agitators will settle it their own way and that will be the right way. They will settle it as far as the franchise is concerned and time and circumstances will settle the other other phases of it by the scattering of the element over which the contention is.

But long before that is done this country may be confronted by another problem which may become quite as irrepressible as was the conflict between negro slavery and freedom, perhaps more far-reaching because it will be a conflict involving the freedom of the white man and saving him from a condition as bad if not worse than was that of the negro slave in the South. This will be the conflict between organized, combined capital and organized and unorganized labor, the advance demonstations of which we have already had, some of which are with us now in the conflicts in certain branches of the iron and steel industry, and other callings where skilled labor is employed. This conflict has not become irrepressible yet; and it will depend much upon the course of the combines which employ labor whether it do or not. They can prevent it from being irrepressible if they will; but will they?

When the conflict over involuntary servitude ended in the emancipation of the slaves the foundation was laid for the system which engendered the other irrepressible conflict, which has become more apparent year after year until it has assumed such proportions that make it plain to every one who is capable of doing any thinking or gives any thought to such subjects. It was then that the system of legislation was entered upon that facilitated the accumulation of great fortunes rapidly, and the drawing of lines between the classes, the rich and the poor, the men who coined money by sharp planning and practices and the men who wrang it out of their muscle and sweat. This condition has become more and more developed year after year until now we have millionaires by the thousand and poor men by the million, the millionaires controlling the millions by controlling parties and Congress and Legislatures with their money, not always by the corrupt use of it in buying votes, but with the influence it wields by the claims that it promotes the country's prosperity and progress, and thus benefits the millions who object to its domination.

Under the tariff and the financial policies of the Republican party Trusts and combines have been fostered, and not satisfied with that, the controllers of large capital, to get a more powerful clutch, are concentrating and combining until they practically control nearly all the manufacturing and productive industries, with the exception of the industry of the farm. Indirectly they control that by controlling the money market and the trade markets. The result of this will be organization of labor on a colossal scale, not simply the labor in one or two industries, but the labor in many, perhaps all, which will for mutual protection make common cause against the combines which employ labor.

Then the conflict royal will begin and be fought out, unless the combines foresee and anticipate this by taking measures to prevent it, and remove the impression that the workman is to become the serf of the combine. If that conflict should come the sympathies and the moral support of the masses of the people will be with the workers, who in the end will triumph, for mighty as the combines are their very size will make them more unwieldy and helpless, and compel them the sooner to yield to the demands of organized labor.

PRESERVE THE FORESTS.

The forests of our country are more valuable than our gold mines, but they should not be worked in the way the gold mines are, that is, by getting all that is possible out of them and as speedily as possible, without any regard to anything else. That may be all right as to the gold mine, but it is not right as to the forest. The idiot who killed the goose that laid the golden egg didn't get any more golden eggs and was minus a goose, but the forest slaughterer does worse than that, for he not only destroys what, if properly managed, would be a source of continuous income, but he destroys one of the earth's best protectors, one of man's best friends, and either ignorantly or carelessly opens the way for incalculable injury in the future.

This State is pretty well timbered, but we are already beginning to pay the penalty of indiscriminate tree cutting, to which has been attributed the devastating floods that this Summer have caused so much havoc in some of our western counties. As bearing upon this we clip the following from the Popular Science Monthly:

"When in our Western forests one is constantly impressed by the change in relative humidity wrought wherever the forest has been removed. Springs have disappeared and canyon and ravine are now dry where there were formerly perennial streams. Under the leaf mold and other debris of the forest the soil is always moist, while on denuded areas in the same locality it is parched and dry. Everywhere the deep mulch forming the floor of the forest grasps the decending rains and melting snows and guides them into the deeper recesses of the earth. Where the forests have been destroyed, or even the mulch and litter forming the forest floor, as it so often is by fire or the excessive grazing of sheep, the rains for the most part, instead of sinking into the soil, pass over the surface, carrying silt and other debris into the streams reservoirs, causing vital injury to irrigation enterprises. So, also, in the semi arid regions, where there are no forests or where they have been destroyed, the wind has a free sweep, resulting in an enormous increase in evaporation. In some instances the evaporation from a water surface exposed to the free sweep of the wind reaches a maximum of thirteen inches in a single month. In exposed situations snows a foot in depth are frequently lapped up in a single day without even moistening the soil beneath. We do not appreciate how great the necessity for the preservation of the forests is to the irrigable West. Reservoirs for the purpose of impounding water to be used in irrigation have been constructed by private enterprise in many parts of the West, and the possibility of governmental construction of such reservoirs is by no means improbable. Effective reservoirs are not possible in our irrigable regions without due regard for the forests that feed the streams which fill them. Foresters everywhere are the great preventers of erosion, and nowhere is this more evident than in our Western mountains. The utility of reservoirs, and to a lesser extent of distributing canals and laterals, becomes destroyed as they fill with silt. To prevent this filling the forests must be preserved; they must be protected from fire in so far as an efficient forest service can protect them, and also from grazing wherever it seriously interferes with the effectiveness of the forest floor as a water absorbent."

While this is said about the West it is as applicable to the South, which does not yet suffer from earth exposure as the West does, but will in time if this reckless, ruthless forest destruction is not checked.

BLACK MARBLE.

Black marble is a very rare stone, but it seems that there is an abundance of it in Cherokee county. In commenting upon what the STAR, the Raleigh Post and Charlotte Observer have had to say about the marble deposits of that county the Cherokee Scout, published at Murphy, says:

In a conversation with Maj. A. G. Kinsey, of the Notla Consolidated Iron, Marble & Talc Co., operating near Murphy, he recently told us that he had plenty of black marble both at his Kinsey and Culberson quarries, samples of which we have seen. Maj. Kinsey says this marble, as well as the other colors, will most favorably compare with any produced in the world.

At present his company is quarrying only the gray marble, which is shipped in huge blocks to finishing works in Georgia, where it is sawed and put on the market. We will not vouch for the story, but we have been told that the magnificent Congressional Library at Washington, D. C., contains Cherokee marble that was prepared for market in Georgia, which State gets the credit for producing it.

So little is known about the existence of black marble in this State that persons who are pretty well informed as to the resources of Cherokee county were not aware of the fact that it is found there, but it is there, and in abundance, too.

Our impression is that most of the black marble used in this country comes from Russia, either in slabs or blocks to be worked into finished forms, or in mantels, table tops, etc., for which it is admirably adapted. As there is considerable demand for this marble by people who can afford to pay for their fancies there ought to be an opening for a profitable business in getting out this stone in Cherokee, if it is as abundant as this extract from the Scout says it is.

Mr. Logan, of Chicago, who retired from business the other day on reaching the age of fifty years, says every man who has enough to live on ought to retire at that age. We agree with him. When a man is well enough fixed for that, if he has any work to do he ought to hire somebody and do it by proxy. That would give the other fellows who are not so well fixed a better chance.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Chatham Record: President McKinley has issued a pardon for Mr. Jap L. Johnson, who was sentenced by the Federal Court last December to twelve months in our county jail. The pardon is conditioned upon the payment of the fine of $400 and all costs.

— Lewisburg Times: Mr. S. S. Ragan, aged 75 years, less 10 days, died Saturday, the 29th of June, at his home in Harris' township. His wife Nancy, aged 75 years and 15 days passed away also just six hours previously. The remains of both husband and wife were taken to Mapleville and interred in the same grave on Sunday following.

— Monroe Enquirer: Mrs. J. I. Richardson, of Buford township, and Mrs. Josiah Helms, of Vance township, are sisters, and, although they do not live more than twenty-five miles apart, they had not, until last Monday, when they met here in the court house, seen each other since the close of the civil war. The sisters had to be introduced as they did not recognize each other.

— Tarboro Southerner: Over the the E. C. road have been shipped this season fifty or sixty crates of huckleberries. This is simply a beginning. Next year the shipments will probably be very large. In the neighborhoods of Turnage and Toddy these berries are said to be very abundant and remarkably large. If expectations are realized the profits on the huckleberry crop of these sections will exceed those on cotton and peanuts and to bacco.

— Chadbourn Messenger: A compilation from the record of the daily shipments of the railroad agent shows that 40,000 crates of strawberries have been shipped from Chadbourn and 10,000 from Grist't Station, making a total of 50,000 crates for the past season, which is a gain of about 50 per cent. over the shipments of the year 1900, and an increase of about 100 per cent. over 1899. The shipments aggregated in value $106,928.

— Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer: A negro was arrested near Hoffman, Richmond county, Tuesday charged with assaulting a 7-year-old colored girl. The negro is now in jail at Rockingham. The crime is said to have been a very atrocious one.

— Garfield Rushing, the negro who is charged with attempting to assault a young lady of White Store township, gave himself up Tuesday morning, had a preliminary hearing before I. F. Myers, Esq., later in the day and was by him committed to jail.

— Nashville Graphic: Reports from the country show that the peanut crop, which has been materially increased in this county this year, is not so good as was expected, and in many sections the stand is very bad.

— A bunch of turf oats, grown by Mr. W. T. Rose, has been sent to this office. The specimen is indeed fine. It shows that from one seed one hundred and fifteen heads were grown, all of which cluster from one root. The average number of heads grown on this peculiar variety is about eighty-five to ninety.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— Why it is that the reconcentrado tactics of Great Britian in South Africa do not excite our indignation when the same course pursued by Weyler in Cuba led us to declare war?—Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

— We can hardly blame the empress dowager for refusing to return to Pekin, because she thinks a trap has been laid to catch her. After the behavior of the troops of the "Christian" nations in China she has every right to regard us with suspicion.—Atlanta News, Dem.

— Considering the superiority of this country's manufacturers and facilities for agriculture, together with its commercial boldness and enterprise, perhaps the best thing for England to do is to consider the advisability of getting annexed.—Washington Star, Rep.

— It should be observed that the threatened war between the Steel Trust and the Amalgamated Labor Trust is not a contest about wages. It is a question of sovereignty that is in dispute. The real issue to be decided is whether or not laborers who do not belong to trade unions shall find employment in Trust establishments. The free right of contract is involved.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

— Governor Crane, of Massachusetts, has taken his place among executives of the real reform order of chief executives by vetoing a bill which gave a street car company franchises extending beyond the life time of a generation. "As far I know," said a person one night,
"There is a naught in this world but what is just right;
I have all I want both to eat and wear,
The flowers I gather are fragrant and fair,
The birds in the trees always sing a glad song,
And as far as I know, there is nothing wrong,
"All the people I know are loyal and kind,
And I am contented in body and mind;
I read about folks who are awfully bad,
About souls that are weary and hearts that are sad,
About children that quarrel and people who fight,
But as far as I know, everything is all right.

"I read there are people who do many things
That on them the worst kind of suffering brings,
That women are wicked and men are untrue,
And sinfulness runneth society thro',
But as far as I know—as far as I know—
I cannot affirm that these stories are so."

The person who said that, as far as she knew,
Was a child of six years, and to her it was true;
O what would we give could we all say to-night,
There is naught in the world but what is just right!
That we have all we want to eat and to wear,
And that justice and goodness abound everywhere.

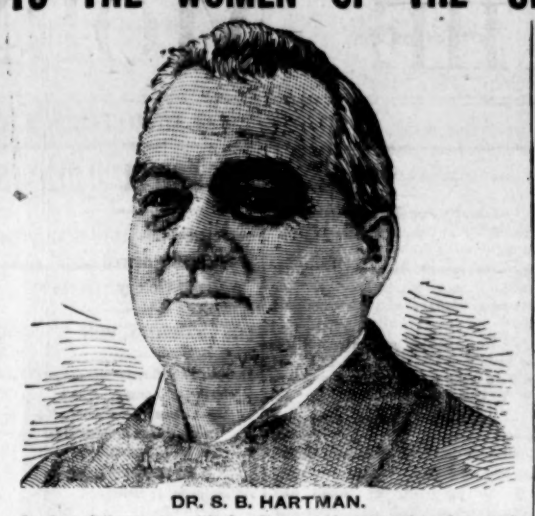
I was first advised by our family physician in Charleston to use TEETHINA with our baby when she was but a very young infant, as a preventive of colic and to warm and sweeten the stomach. Later it was useful in teething troubles, and its effect has been found to be so very beneficial and so free from the dangers that are consequent upon the use of drugs and soothing syrups, that we have come to regard it, after use with three children, as one of the necessities when there is a new baby in the house and until the teething troubles are over, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our friends instead of the horrid stuff that so many people use to keep their babies quiet.

HARTWELL M. AYER,
(Mgr. Daily Times and Weekly Times-Messenger.)

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

TO THE WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES.



DR. S. B. HARTMAN.

In view of the great multitude of women suffering from some kind of female disease, and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months without charge.

The treatment will be conducted by correspondence. The doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to complete a cure. The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores. This offer will hold good only during the summer months. Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, history and symptoms of her derangements.

All cases of female diseases, including menstrual irregularities, displacements, ulcerations, inflammations, discharges, irritation of the ovaries, tumors and dropsy of the abdomen, should apply at once and become registered as regular patients. All correspondence will be held strictly confidential. No testimonials or cures will be given to the public except by the express wish of the patient.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted exclusively to the treatment of female diseases. He is thus brought to see thousands of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to be treated by correspondence. The principal remedy he relies upon in such cases is Peruna, which every woman should have, who has any affection of this kind. Those wishing to become patients should address DR. S. B. HARTMAN, COLUMBUS OHIO.

No one knows better than Dr. Hartman how much the women suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex. No one knows better than he does how many of them suffer with such diseases. Patiently, hopefully, wearily, and often silently, they eke out a miserable existence year after year.

A woman confined to the house several years with a chronic female derangement had finally given up all hope of being cured. She had tried physician after physician, and remedy after remedy, without any permanent improvement. Her treatment had cost her husband, who was a poor man, hundreds of dollars. They had been obliged to deny themselves many comforts of life in order to get money enough to pay the physicians.

Picking up the paper one day she happened to read an item which contained the news that Dr. Hartman would treat such cases free of charge by letter. She immediately wrote the doctor, describing her case, and giving him all her symptoms. She soon received a letter telling her exactly what to do and what medicines and appliances to get. She began the treatment (the principal remedy being Peruna) at once, and in a few weeks was well and strong again and able to do her own work.

Another woman who used Peruna without becoming one of Dr. Hartman's regular patients had the following experience. Miss Ida Green writes from Baldwinville, Ga.: "Peruna is wonderful and good, and a certain cure for female weakness. I have been ill and have been taking doctor's medicine for several years, and found that none did me any good.

"Every day it was a worry. I was always sick. I had come to the conclusion to give up, and not use any more medicine. I was sick indeed for the past two years. Just before I began to take Peruna I was very weak, besides I was bilious and constipated.

"I had pains in my back and side and falling of the womb, with bearing down pains.

"One day while reading my newspaper, I came across an ad., read of the book for women entitled, "Health and Beauty," and sent for it. Then I began to use the medicine. After using several bottles I am now thoroughly cured."

Send for free book, entitled, "Health and Beauty." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

TWINKLINGS

— Getting at the root: The woman—"Doctor, I have an awful tired feeling." The Doctor—"Ah let me see your tongue."—Brooklyn Life.

— Bill—His automobile seems to have almost human intelligence. Jill—How so? "Why it broke down in front of a saloon."—Yonkers States man — Count William Bismarck, who died recently, was always known as "Count Bill" among his friends, a name always used for him by his father.

— Aunt Julie—"Now, Tommy, that's a nice boy! Do the churning, and as a reward I'll let you turn the wringer for the new washing machine."—Harper's Bazar.

— His Exclamation: Mrs. Gaswell—"The Czar of Russia now has four daughters." Mr. Gaswell—"Oh, the dear little Czardines!"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph

— Feminity. — Julia: Fanny married a very wealthy man, you know. She tells me she has absolutely nothing to wish for. Gertrude: Oh, Julia! What a dreadful state to be in.—Brooklyn Life.

— "Pa, what's an unanswerable argument?" "The kind your mother puts up, my son, when she won't allow me to get a word in edgeways."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

— Minister—"Yes, children, we all have besetting sins. So have I, like the rest. Now, what do you suppose is my besetting sin? Bright Boy—"Talking."—Tit Bits.

"Mommer," said the languid young lady who reclined on the parlor sofa, do you think it is wrong for a girl to throw herself at a man?"

Mommer replied—Not if he is a good catch, dear.—Denver Times.

— Speaking from Experience: Harold (desperately)—"I tell you, old chap, I cannot live without her!" Rupert (complacently)—"Oh, yes, you can, old man. Why, I used to think I couldn't live without cigarettes."—Puck.

Little Harry's Diplomacy.

Little Harry was very fond of sweet things to eat, and especially of puddings, which were his favorite dessert. Accordingly his dinners were made a burden to him, since his parents persisted that he must make his meals off the substantials and leave what Harry called the good things until last. One day while Harry's nostrils were tickled with the tantalizing odors of his most favored pudding a scheme was born in his brain that points his way to future greatness. When his mother put before him a plate of meat and potatoes he eyed it a moment in apparent ecstasy; then, shoving it regretfully away, he said:

"I declare that looks so good I guess I'll leave it till the very last thing and get rid of that pudding first!"—What to Eat.

Got No Autograph.

To an applicant for his autograph Mark Twain on one occasion sent a letter the substance of which was as follows:

"To ask a doctor or builder or sculptor for his autograph would be in no way rude. To ask one of these for a specimen of his work, however, is quite another thing, and the request might be justifiably refused. It would never be fair to ask a doctor for one of his corpses to remember him by."

There was no autograph to the letter, which was typewritten throughout.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as the selection of right stocks."

The Prosecution Of Mrs. Dullet

I was on a visit to my friend Dave at his mountain home and was standing one day in the courtyard at Lexby, the county town, discussing the possibilities of his re-election to the position of commonwealth's attorney when down the street came at a long gallop an old fellow mounted on a thin, ewe necked sorrel colt whose long rusty tail whipped between his legs at every jump. Up to the courtyard gate he clattered and, dismounting, flung the rein over the post in utter disregard of the large printed notice posted on it that no horses were to be hitched there. Through the turnstile and up the walk he came swinging.

"I believe that's old Dullet from Jacksborough," said Dave. "He's a man of influence up there and dead against me—always is. I wonder what he wants?"

He had not long to wait, for the old fellow strode up to a group and said, "Whar's the commonwealth's attorney?"

"I am the man," said Dave. "What can I do for you, Mr. Dullet?"

"I wants you to put my wife in the pen'tentiary," he said.

"What!" exclaimed Dave; then recovered himself. "What do you want that for?"

"She's forged my name, and she's got to go to the pen'tentiary," said he.

"Well, tell me about it," said Dave, seeing the gravity of the situation, and, turning, he led the way into his office and offered chairs.

"Well, it's this way: My oldest gal Sairy is been a-wantin to marry a feller named Torm Hackle for gwine on two years, and I wouldn't let her."

"Why?" said Dave in a professional tone, drawing a pen and paper toward him.

"'Cause Torm's on t'other side," said Dullet.

"Oh!" said Dave, writing down something. "Go on."

"Well, I wouldn't let Torm come over on our side. I sont him word ef he did to look out. And Sairy she got kind of sick and peaked, and my old woman she wanted me to do it then, and I wouldn't, 'cause I had to sign the dockiment. Then she got kinder worser, and my wife she wanted me to go for the doctor. So day before yistiddy I went down for the doctor, and he said he'd come today, and I staid at Jim Miggins' store all night and yistiddy a-waitin for him, and when I got home last night my wife she said, 'Whar's the doctor?' And I said: 'He's a-comin. How's Sairy?' And she said: 'She's done got well. She's got all the doctor she wanted. She's done married Torm Hackle.' 'How did she done it,' sys I, 'and I ain't signed the license?' says I. 'I signed your name for it,' says she. And I said, 'You has done commit a pen'tentiary offense, and I kin put you in the pen'tentiary for it,' says I. And she bet me a dollar she hadn't and I couldn't. And I says, 'I bet you $2 I kin, and I will,' says I. And now I are gwine to do it. I kin do it, can't I?"

Dave reflected, while the old mountaineer sat still, perfectly passive.

"Well," he said slowly, "there are not a great many precedents." The old fellow's face hardened. "But, of course," he added, "forgery is a very serious thing, and, ah!" The old fellow's eye was upon him. "How long have you been married?" he asked.

"Twenty year come next month."

Dave wrote it down.

"Wife always been good wife to you?"

"Ain't got no fault to find wid her till now, when she forged my name an'—

"Ever have any trouble with her?"

"Never at all, 'cept, of course, fights like all married folks has."

Dave wrote it down.

"Industrious?"

"Got no fault to find wid her about dat."

"Help you save what you got?"

"Ain't a hard workiner, saviner 'ooman on the mountain."

"How many children she got?"

"Nine—eight livin. I don't count that one."

"How many dead?"

"Four."

Dave wrote laboriously.

"Wife good to 'em?"

"Jes' as good as could be. Nursed 'em faithful."

"Sit up with 'em when they were sick?"

"Never went to bed at all; never took her clothes off."

"Go hard with her?"

"Went mighty hard, specially when Johnny died. He was named after me."

Dave wrote silently.

"Go hard with you?"

"Right sort of hard."

"Sort of lonesome after that?"

"Mighty lonesome."

"How old your youngest one now?"

"Gwine on 3; that's Billy."

"Fond of his mother?"

"Can't bear her out of his sight."

"Fond of you?"

"Sort of—right smart."

"Say Sairy was your oldest?"

"Yes."

"Thought right smart of her when you didn't have any others, just at first, I reckon?"

"Umh. Might 'a' done; don't remember."

"Wife did, anyhow?"

"Yes; always fool 'bout her. Oldest—see?"

"She was young and fresh then?"

"Yes; likeliest woman on the mountain."

"Bet she was! Used to have good time sitting up to her, going to see her summer evenings, walking through the woods?"

"Yes, sir; did that."

"She thought more of first baby than you. She had more trouble with her than you—when she was a baby, I mean?"

"Oh, yes; guess she did."

"Carried her round in her arms, nursed her when she was sick and made her little frocks for her?"

"Yes."

"As she did Johnny's?"

"Yes."

"And does little Billy's?"

"Yes. She's made Billy a little pair of breeches."

"With pockets in them?"

"Yes; two."

Dave laid down his pen, opened the code and read a little to himself. "Well, I can put her in the penitentiary for you," he said. "'Not less than one nor more than ten years,'" he read.

Dullet sat forward a little.

"How old is your wife?"

"'Bout 50 year."

"I'll draw the indictment. Let me see, the grand jury will meet when? Then the jury?" He was talking to himself, with his eyes turned up to the ceiling. "There might be some of those Hackles on the jury. Umh, that would be bad." Dullet twisted around in his chair. "They'd send her on for the full time, though—ten years. That would be good."

Dullet leaned forward. "Are them Hackles likegen to be on that jury?" he asked.

"No," said Dave; "not at all. Only they may be on there, that's all." He lifted his eyes again to the ceiling. "That might be all the better. They'd of course be pretty rough on her. Ten years. She'd be about 60 when she came out. Umh! They'd have worked her pretty hard. Let me see. I suppose they'd put her with the thieves, dress her in stripes and maybe whip her." Dullet started to give an exclamation, but stopped to listen. "I suppose little Billy would be sorry at night at first, but he'd get used to it, or he might go down to see her once a year or so for a few minutes in his breeches if she lived. He'd miss her some. If she died, she'd go to Johnny. Well, the Hackles wouldn't be sorry. Yes, I can do it,—I think," he said, bringing his eyes down on Dullet's face and speaking positively.

Dullet rose with a jump. "Look a-here, Mr.—Mr.—What's your name?" he said. "I'll just be durned ef any of them Hackles kin put my wife in the penitentiary, and ef anybody thinks they kin let 'em try it!"

Dave looked at him calmly. "I agree with you," he said, "and I'll help you."

There was a pause, in which Dullet was reflecting. Then he asked, "What would you advise me to do?"

"I don't advise you to do anything," said Dave, "but I know what I'd do if I was in your place."

"What?"

"I'd go home and send for Sairy to come over to dinner next Sunday and tell her to bring that fellow with her—he's more Dullet now than he is Hackle, and every time my wife got uppish I'd tell her I could have put her in the penitentiary for ten years, but I was too good to her to do it."

Dullet reflected and then said: "I'll do it. What does I owe to you?"

"A good deal," said Dave, "but I want you to present it to Mrs. Dullet for me."

"Well"— He walked to the door, paused and then said slowly, "Th' nex' time you runs for anything, Jacksborough is a-gwine to vote for you." He went out.

Dave was re-elected.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it Call on R. R. BELLAMY, Druggist, and get a 10c trial bottle. Regular size 50c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded. †

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, langnor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, ♦CUTICLIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JULY 7.

TO THE BASE BALL PUBLIC.

Card Issued by the Management Giving Details of the Recent Loss of Players and Prospects for the Future.

EDITOR STAR:—The management of the Wilmington Base Ball team, feeling that the public is more or less mystified at the sudden desertion of several members of the team, begs to lay before them the facts in connection therewith.

In the case of Stafford: More than six weeks ago Manager Powell, of the New Orleans club, made an offer to purchase him from the Wilmington team, which was not considered. Later Powell went to Newport News, where the Wilmington team was playing, and made Stafford an offer to go with his team, if he could secure his release from the Wilmington team, which was of such a flattering nature as to dissatisfy Stafford, after he had applied for his release and had been refused it. Soon after this, as the public is aware, Powell came to Wilmington for the purpose of further trying to secure the release of Stafford, when the matter was brought to a head by Stafford's refusing to longer play with the Wilmington team on account of their refusing to grant him release. This then forced the Wilmington management to treat with Powell on the best terms possible, which resulted in the selling of Stafford for the sum of $300. On the same visit of Powell he endeavored to buy from the Wilmington team Pitchers Stewart and Vorhees and Shortstop Clayton, making flattering offers for them, all of which were flatly refused.

As to Pitcher Vorhees, it now seems he deserted the team to play ball with the Atlantic City Independent team, so that the Wilmington team has no means of receiving redress under National League protection in his case.

And now as to Crockett, our latest loss: His desertion came like a thunder-clap out of a clear sky. He had never shown any signs of dissatisfaction, nor had he ever intimated that he was receiving offers from other people. On the 3rd inst. we received an offer from the Manager of the Philadelphia American League team by telegram for his release, but as the National League enjoins those under its protection to abstain from trading in any way with American League teams for players, no attention was paid to the communication. Aside from this the sale of Crockett's release at this time to any one would not have been considered. The news now comes that he has jumped to the Detroit team, another American League team, without notice, and Wilmington's only redress in the matter is to have the matter published through the President of the National League, who has been notified of the facts, which will have the effect of debarring Crockett's playing in the future with any team under National League protection.

From the above it will be seen that it has been from no lack of effort on the part of the management to prevent it, that these men have left us; rather it would seem that the Wilmington team has been composed of so many stars—a compliment at this time somewhat to be deplored—that it could not hold them out of the fastest company in the base ball world, with all its efforts to the contrary.

We would, therefore, ask the public to stand by the management and the brave remnant of the pennant winners in this their brief spell of distress. If this be done we can assure them that the team will finish the second series as strong as they finished the first, for with Devlin succeeding Stafford; Frost, Crockett; and Willig, Voorhees, all of whom will be on hand at the opening game at Charlotte to-morrow, and with negotiations pending for the signing of another strong pitcher, in a short time the team will be in its old time form, and the deserting idols will be forgotten, except by what we may see of their brilliant playing in the "Big Leagues."

Painting Walker Memorial Hospital.

Mr. J. E. Hatch, the well known painter and decorator, has the contract for repainting the interior of the James Walker Memorial Hospital and expects to complete the work by Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, when it is expected that the splendid new institution will be formally turned over to the new board of managers. The transfer would have been made before but the painting was done by another party than Mr. Hatch and was unsatisfactory. Mr. Hatch was then given the contract and hopes to have it completed as stated.

Property Transfers Yesterday.

The following property transfers were noted from the record at the Court House yesterday: G. W. Hooper and wife to Thos. H. Wright for $500, lot on west side of Ninth between Harnett and Swann streets; Martha Broadstreet to John R. Mahoney for $350, lot 33x50 feet at southeast intersection of Eighth and Swann streets, except an estate for the life of the party first named; W. M. Cumming and wife to B. B. Humphrey for $625, lot on north side of Market, between Eleventh and Twelfth street, size 30x150 feet.

Arrested For Shop Lifting.

William Simon, the half-witted Syrian boy who has figured so conspicuously in Criminal Court circles of late, was arrested last night and locked up by Policeman Leon George on the charge of shop-lifting. One of the salesmen in the Five and Ten Cent Store in the Masonic Temple detected the boy appropriating to his own use a number of handkerchiefs and immediately notified Policeman George. A search of his person disclosed the fact that he had several other articles from the stock. He will be given a preliminary hearing to-morrow.

A force of thirty clerks from the general land office left Washington, D. C., for Oklahoma to conduct the business pertaining to the opening of the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache Indian lands in that Territory.

KRUGER URGED TO ARM PRIVATEERS.

Unless the Powers Intervene in the War Between the Boers and the British.

KRUGER LATELY REFUSED.

But the Promoters of the Scheme Propose to Act Without Authorization in the Event of His Continued Refusal. Opinion in Washington.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BRUSSELS, July 6.—The Petit Bleu says that Mr. Kruger lately refused to entertain proposals to arm privateers, but that the promoters are again urging the former president of the South African republic to notify the Powers that unless they intervene he will issue letters of marque. In the event of Mr. Kruger's continued refusal the promoters propose to act without authorization.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The report from Brussels that former President Kruger is being urged to notify the Powers that unless they intervene in the South Africa contest he will commission privateers is not treated seriously here. It is well understood, as one outcome of the war with Spain, that the United States government will never again, except in the most extraordinary emergency, issue letters of marque, and the same reasons that impel the government to this course undoubtedly would operate to prevent our government from recognizing any such warrants issued by any other nation, even were that nation in full standing.

In the case of the Spanish war, both the belligerents by agreement refrained from issuing commissions to privateers, and it now has been many years since the flag of any respectable nation has flown over such craft. In the case of Mr. Kruger, it is extremely doubtful whether he would, if the issue were forced in this way, be recognized as a de facto president authorized to issue commissions to privateers. That point would have to be settled at the outset and each nation whose commerce was affected or was threatened by the privateers would determine for itself his competency. It is scarcely to be expected that they would decide against their own commercial interests, so that Mr. Kruger would find it difficult to secure general recognition.

The threat to send out privateers without President Kruger's consent is idle. It is pointed out here that such craft would be pirates, pure and simple, and the civilized world would combine to sweep them from the seas if they should begin operations against the commerce of any nation.

THE CHARBON PLAGUE.

State Officials of Mississippi Have Taken Hold of the Situation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSON, MISS., July 6.—The State has taken hold of the charbon situation in Bolivar county and by quarantining the affected district and burning the carcasses of dead animals hopes to stamp out the disease before further damage is done. The State board of health, board of public contracts, and citizens of Bolivar held a joint meeting to day to discuss the situation. The board of contracts is composed of the attorney general, treasurer and auditor of the State. They petitioned the Governor to spend $1,000 in this cause. Should he agree, the board of health will take immediate charge. It is possible the Governor will decline, as the legislative appropriation is available only on recommendation of the board of public contracts approved by the Governor and they did not contemplate an expenniture on live stock.

MURDEROUS ATTACK

Made by a Negro With an Ice Axe On a White Girl.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 6.—James H. Oliver, a negro 23 years old, made a murderous attack yesterday on Miss Esther Sleight, seventeen years old, in the yard of the Staatsburg hotel. He struck her with an ice axe and inflicted a terrible wound. Prompt work in sending the negro to jail prevented a lynching.

Oliver went to Poughkeepsie from Newport News, Va., a short time ago, and was employed about the hotel stables. Miss Sleight was also employed in the hotel, and the negro often found fault with the food given him by her. Yesterday Miss Sleight was in the hotel yard hanging up clothes and Oliver was washing a wagon. Suddenly he left his work and seizing an ice axe, stole over to the girl and struck her on the back of the head.

NEWS OF THE NAVY.

Cruiser Newark at New York—Orders to Re-Establish European Station.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The United States cruiser Newark, Captain Mc Calla, flying the homeward bound pennant, arrived this afternoon from Hong Kong via Gibraltar after a fine run of forty-seven days. The Newark left Hong Kong on May 25th, passing through the Suez canal. She left Gibraltar on June 25th.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Captain B. H. McCalla has been detached from the command of the Newark and ordered to command the Kersarge.

The Navy Department has issued formal orders re-establishing the European station with Rear Admiral J. B. Cromwell in command. The cruiser Chicago is ordered to proceed from Rio and will be the flagship of the Admiral.

JESSIE MORRISON.

Woman Convicted of Manslaughter Sentenced to Five Years Imprisonment.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ELDORADO, KAS., July 7.—Jesse Morrison, convicted of manslaughter in the second degree for the murder of Mrs. Clara Wiley Castle, on June 22d, 1900, was to-day sentenced to five years in the penitentiary in close confinement at hard labor. Miss Morrison took the sentence calmly. Judge Ackman overruled successively motions for a new trial, for postponement of sentence and for arrest of judgment.

The Presbpterian synod comprising churches of all parts of Mexico, opened in the City of Mexico yesterday. The Presbyterian Church here will be independent of the church in the United States. This is considered a remarkable movement in the history of the Protestant missionary work in Mexico.

FILIPINO LEADERS GIVE UP.

Surrender of General Ballarmino With One Thousand Men and Arms to Colonel Wint.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, July 6.—The forces of the insurgent leader Bellarmino, which have recently been operating around Donsol, province of Sorogon, were driven across the mountains by the Second infantry and finally captured by the Sixth cavalry. Ballarmino, with 1,000 men and 284 guns, surrendered to Colonel Wint at Albay, capital of the province of that name. One hundred more rifles will be surrendered to morrow.

Later in the day the official announcement of the surrender of Ballarmino was made. According to this account, Ballarmino, who has been operating in the province of Sorogon, surrendered Thursday last at Legaspi, on Albay bay, with 32 officers, 215 guns and 1,000 rounds of ammunition. The insurgent presidentes of that section of the country and many Filipinos accompanied Ballarmino, who gave himself up to Colonel Theodore J. Wint of the Sixth cavalry. In all, since June 1st, 1881 insurgents have surrendered in that district. Colonel Wint's regiment came from China with General Chaffee. Before disembarking at Legaspi, Colonel Wint went to General Chaffee and asked the latter if he desired him to clean up that part of the country. General Chaffee replied: "Yes, but I do not command until July 4."

In three weeks Ballarmino was cornered, in spite of the theories of many officers that cavalry could not be used in effective operations in such a country.

Former Filipino officers who belonged to Malvar's command, report that fifty insurgents were killed and that many were wounded by the command of Lieutenant Manaci (?) during a recent two days' fight in the province of Batangas. The Twentieth infantry has been ordered from Northern Luzon to Batangas.

Civil Governor Taft and military Governor Chaffee are working agreeably together. They are holding informal conferences and are arriving at mutual understandings, a state of affairs hitherto almost unknown.

The insurgent general Caillis, who surrendered at Santa Cruz, Laguna province, June 24th, and his friends, have offered to negotiate with Malvara, the insurgent leader in Southern Luzon, for the latter's surrender.

THE HEAT WAVE BROKEN.

Showers and Thunder Storms Swept Over the Atlantic States and the Mercury Fell Everywhere.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The backbone of the hot wave has been broken, at least temporarily, by showers and thunder storms that swept over the Atlantic States and the upper Lake region this afternoon; but the Weather Bureau holds out no assurances as to the permanency of the break. Up in Nova Scotia the barometic high pressure area is banked up to night, giving promise of winds from the eastward, with cooler weather in its train. It is much cooler to-night throughout New England, and the storms this afternoon and evening, according to Forecast Official Frankenfield, give promise that the next day or two at least will not be so abnormally hot as the record breaking days of the past week. The mercury has fallen in greater or less degree everywhere to the east of the Mississippi, while west of the Mississippi, except in the extreme Southwest, the temperature is considerably warmer.

The maximum temperature for the day in Washington was reached at half past two this afternoon, when the Weather Bureau thermometer recorded 95, which is two degrees less than the maximum for the corresponding day last year. But the storm that broke a little later caused a drop of 24 degrees within three and a half hours. The night was cool, with a refreshing breeze.

Mortality in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, July 6.—The number of deaths in the city for the week ended to day is 451, the highest of which the health department has any record. Of these 236 were children under five years of age. At least fifty per cent of the mortality is said by the health department officials to be due either directly or indirectly to the intense heat which has prevailed during the period menntioned.

The hot spell was at least temporarily ended this afternoon by a thunder storm, which came up at about 3.30 and sent the mercury down from 96 to 69 in less than an hour. Five deaths and seven prostrations is the record for the day.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

International Convention of the Christian Endeavor Society at Cincinnati.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CINCINNATI, July 6.—With the largest attendance on record, the 20th international convention of the Christian Endeavor Society began here today. Cool weather favored the delegates and the business session with which the convention began was carried on in a pleasant atmosphere, after the severe hot weather of the past ten days. During the early hours receptions and rallies were held at different State headquarters. The delegates then marched by States to the auditorium where the opening session of the convention was held.

Rev. A. M. Miyaki, of Osaka, Japan, the secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society in that country, brought greetings from that far off land in a scroll of Japanese which he read in his native tongue.

The climax of the meeting was reached when Bishop Fallows, as chairman, arose to present President Clarke, who delivered to the convention his annual address. "Let us all take our handkerchiefs," said the chairman, "and all stand and wave them in a joyous acclaim for the man we love, the man who has started this great work," and the audience did so with cheer after cheer.

President Clarke was deeply affected by the evident affection of his hearers and began his report with his slow but forcible manner. At its conclusion Secretary John Willis Baer read his annual report.

STEAMER AGROUND.

Passengers Landed on Boats and Sent to New York by Rail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Joy Steamship Company's steamer, Old Dominion, ran aground in a thick fog to-day near Rye Point. The passengers numbered about ten and were landed at Rye Beach in the steamer's boats and were sent to New York by train. The vessel lies on an even keel and her captain thinks she will float with the next high tide.

THE CONSTITUTION WON THE RACE.

Beating the Old Champion, the Columbia, About Fifteen Minutes.

INDEPENDENCE NOT IN SIGHT.

Record of the First Day's Contest of the Big Sloops in the Newport Yacht Racing Association — Constitution by Far the Better Boat.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 6.—An unqualified victory for the Constitution; an overwhelming defeat for the Independence; a most commendable showing for the old champion, the Columbia, is the record of the first day's contest of the big sloops in the Newport Yacht Racing Association series. From the firing of the starting gun which sent the yachts off to windward in a light breeze, the Constitution held her rivals. At the turning buoy she was a little more than two minutes in advance of the Columbia, while the Independence was hull down to leeward. But it was on the run home that the new Herreshoff yacht showed her greatest strength, beating Columbia over eight minutes in the fifteen miles down the wind, and when the new champion of the America's cup swept across the line the Boston yacht was over seven miles astern. Owing to the lightness of the wind there was no brilliant or dramatic scene to chronicle. The race lacked the charm that attends a scupper breeze, but it was nevertheless full of interesting, if not exciting events. The chief incident of the contest was, of course the failure of the Independence to meet the expectations of her adherents, That she was a failure in the weather conditions that prevailed to-day cannot be gainsaid. At no time during the contest to windward did she show any weatherly qualities whatever. She did not point as high as her opponents nor did she even for a brief interval demonstrate that she possessed a fraction of that speed which she seemed to show when sailing by herself. That she may be vastly improved is possible, but that she profoundly disappointed her friends to day cannot be concealed, for in light winds her excellence was chiefly supposed to rest. When she got fairly out into the open sea she pounded heavily in the southwest swell and the more she pounded the more she seemed to lose headway.

So far as the Constitution's success was concerned it was no more than was expected of her by those who have watched her keenly since her launch. Handled splendidly and with rare judgment but not in the least better than the Columbia, her superior size and bigger sail plan told. The boasts of some experts that Nat Herreshoff has reached his limit when he designed the Columbia are not justified by to day's race. Whether the Columbia will beat the Constitution in hard weather remains to be proved. The Columbia was sailed in a most meritorious manner from start to finish. All the arts of the professional sea journeyman were practiced by Baer, the sailing master, and E. D. Morgan, the manager, to overcome their vastly abler opponent. That they should have kept the inferior boat so close to her superior antagonist in the race to the outer mark was a wonderful piece of work.

That the Constitution is by far the better all around boat, let it blow high or low, is hardly to be doubted after her showing to-day.

THREE MASKED MEN

Made an Unsuccessful Attempt to Rob a Bank in Oklahoma.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

STROUD, OKLA., July 6.—An unsuccessful attempt was made early this morning by three masked men to rob the Stroud State bank. The robbers entered the room adjoining the bank building where Amos Seaton, assistant cashier, and Earl Heath were asleep. The young men were awakened, bound hand and foot and told if they made any noise they would be shot by the fellows who stood over them with a gun. The robbers then injected nitro glycerine into the safe three times and the explosions almost totally destroyed the safe, but they failed to get the money in the vault. They relieved Heath and Seaton of their watches and a small amount of money.

STORM IN GEORGIA.

Terrific Hail and Cloud Burst in Quitman County.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

EUFAULA, ALA. July 6.—A terrific hail storm and cloud burst passed over a portion of Quitman county, Ga., today at noon. The storm covered an area of four miles and swept the farms in its path. Mill dams were washed away, fences demolished and lowlands submerged. Farmers will be forced to plant over or relinquish their crops.

WHILE THE WEATHER IS SO VERY HOT

The Big Racket Store

Is selling their Summer Goods. We are trying to make room for our Fall and Winter stock, which has already begun to arrive for the Wholesale and Retail trade.

We have 1,000 yards Remnant Percale, yard wide, all good colors, at 5c a yard. 1,000 yards of 40-inch White Muslin, bought very cheap, for 6c per yard. 700 yards India Linen that we will close out at 4c a yard, 10 yards to a customer. 1,200 yards L L Sea Island Shirting at 4½c per yard. 1,000 yards Silver King Fine Sea Island Shirting, worth 7c, now 5c. Best quality A C A Bed Tick, warranted feather proof, worth 15c, now 12½c. 1,000 yards Dress Goods, assorted kinds. Lawns, Dimities and Organdies, sold from 5c to 15c per yard, now your choice for 3½c per yard; 10 yards to each customer. A nice line of White Piques for 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard. 1 piece very handsome Cream White Silk Grenadine, worth 65c a yard, my price 35c. A nice line new all-wool Venetian Cloths, all pretty shades, at 48c a yard. About 300 pairs Ladies' Slippers, to close out at less than cost, from 40c up.

Just received 37 Boys' very fine All Wool Serge Suits for 7 to 15 years—will give satisfaction at $3.00 a suit. Also 37 Boys' Striped Cheviot Suits, 7 to 15 years, at $1.25 a suit. A nice line of Boys' Pants in light weight for Summer at 25c a pair. Boys' Brown Overalls, with apron fronts and suspenders, at 25 a pair. Just received 130 dozen Coats Cotton, white or colored, up to No. 100, at 5c a spool. Clark's Spool Cotton, 2 spools for 5c. A nice line of Hammocks from 50c to $2.48; all styles to select from. Just bought a line of Drummers' Samples very cheap. Mosquito Canopies, frame, rope and pulley, at $1.25; extra large size at $1.50. A big line of New Neckwear of all kinds just received to day. About 300 Men's Straw Hats to close at cost—10 to 48c.

About 150 Men's Felt Hats to sell at actual cost—a regular $2 50 Hat you can buy from us for $1.50. A $1.50 Hat for 75c. A big line of Ladies' and Misses' Mackintoshes absolutely water-proof for $2.50 each.

In our Trunk Department, we have just received a solid car load. We have cheap Trunks and nice Trunks. Parties desiring a good Trunk cheap should see our line. We have 500 to select from—from 98c to $18 each.

A nice line of blue and black Summer Coats from $1.50 to $3.75. Office Coats for Men for 50c each. Well made and fit nicely. One hundred pairs Ladies' hand made fine Shoes, mostly on C and D lasts.
